'No repeat' of flu vaccine shortage

By NEIL DOCKING

East Lancashire's health chiefs say they have enough flu vaccines in stock to cope with demand this winter.

Last winter more than 600 people in the UK died as a direct result of catching seasonal flu, and 31 people died from the H1N1 swine flu strain.

There were shortages of the vaccine reported in Blackburn with Darwen following a surge in demand and supply problems.

GP practices and chemists started running out of the jab after flu cases in East Lancashire increased ten-fold.

NHS Blackburn with Darwen Care Trust Plus was forced to offer the old swine flu vaccine on its own, rather than the combined seasonal flu and swine flu dose, and order additional supplies.

This year an extra two million flu vaccines have been ordered nationally and an emergency stockpile set up.

Dr Chris Clayton, chairman of the new Clinical Commissioning Group for Blackburn with Darwen, said: "GPs have already sent letters to at risk patients offering them the free flu jab and begun vaccinating both patients and their own staff to prevent the spread of flu.

Health chiefs order extra supplies

"We have enough vaccine in stock to cover everyone in the 'at risk' groups and because at this stage we are not expecting anything other than a normal flu season, that will be enough to ensure good coverage of the population.

"However, the flu virus can change quickly so I would advise everyone to get a jab early.

NHS East Lancashire, which covers Burnley, Hyndburn, Pendle, Ribble Valley and Rossendale, did not run out of supplies in 2010.

It said it had begun offering the free jab to pregnant women, over 65s, under 65s with serious long-term health problems and frontline health and social care staff.

Contest: Sausages you'll love

BEEF AND MARMITE! John Bury Trust trustees Julie Wareing and Andrea Sturgess celebrate winning Dales Butchers' monthly 'suggest a sausage flavour' competition, with their beef and marmite sausage, with Dales Butchers stall manager Carrie-Ann Murray, who is based at Blackburn's new market

Citizen In brief

Miriam celebrates century at party

A grandmother-of-six celebrated her 100th birthday at Queens Lodge Nursing Home, in Blackburn.

Miriam Moxham, from Ewood, was visited by the Mayor of Blackburn with Darwen during a party at the Haslingden Road home.

Mrs Moxham, a former civil service worker, was married to coal merchant Joseph Moxham for 40 years. The couple had three children. Mr Moxham died in 1979. Mrs Moxham's daughter, Ann Maguire, said: "She has looked after herself and she has a good, strong heart!"

Autumn fair

The 10th Accrington URC Brownies will hold an autumn fair this Saturday, between 10am and noon, at the United Reformed Church, Whalley Road, Accrington, using the Malt Street entrance. Proceeds will go to their holiday fund.

Susan's charity feat

An NHS worker raised almost £300 for East Lancashire Hospice with a Three Peaks Walk. Susan Steele, of Bog Height Road, Darwen, presented a £285 cheque to Denise Gee, events fundraiser at the charity. Susan walked the 26-mile route and received sponsorship from friends, family, and colleagues at Royal Blackburn Hospital.

Top St John cadet joined to help ill dad

By CATHERINE PYE

A caring teenager from Accrington has been named as the St John Ambulance Cadet of the Year in Lancashire.

Edward O'Brien, of Manchester Road, joined the service to help his chronically-ill dad Terence, who sadly died a week before Edward won the accolade.

The 16-year-old joined the cadets five years ago knowing his dad, a former consultant surgeon at the Blackburn Royal Infirmary, had multiple sclerosis.

He said: "I wanted to know what to do if anything happened to dad. And as he became more ill, suffering from bouts of pneumonia, I helped check his oxygen supplies every few hours. I felt glad I knew what I was doing and so did he."

Edward beat five other youngsters, aged between 10 and 17 from across the county, at a two-day competition in Burnley to win the title.

Among the tasks were a first aid demonstration testing communication skills, an interview, and presentations.

Edward, who is studying media studies at Accrington and Rossendale College, said: "Dad died the weekend before I was due to go to the Lancashire finals, but mum arranged the funeral so it would be after and it wouldn't distract me.

"The judges weren't told about the situation, so that I wouldn't be given any special treatment, and I think it gave me something to focus on."

He added: "I was shocked to win. I really wasn't expecting it to be me. It took a few minutes for it to sink in after I'd received the award."

Edward has already used his medical skills to help save the life of a teenage girl who became seriously ill after hitting her head on the ice at Blackburn's ice arena in 2008.

Edward heard shouts for help from her friend and climbed over a toilet cubicle to help the girl, who was having a fit, until paramedics arrived.

LIFE-SAVING SKILLS: Edward with his award

This summer he and his mum, Jo-Anne, a former nurse, also tried to help a Czech woman who got into difficulty while swimming in Cyprus, but she had already drowned by the time they reached her.

Beryl Brighouse, commissioner for youth in Lancashire, said: "Edward has demonstrated tremendous dedication and enthusiasm over the course of the competition and we are all delighted that he is our County Cadet of the Year."

Edward will now go on to compete in the national competition early in the new year.

Headache over fairground noise

Questions have been raised about the location of a fairground after residents complained about noise and disturbance.

The ground in the middle of busy Duckworth Street, Darwen, 'blares' out music from around 8.30pm every evening, according to locals.

And business owners have also complained about the loss of 'premium' customer parking as the rides are positioned on a town centre car park.

One relative of a resident at Pembroke Court sheltered housing said: "I rang to speak to my mum and I could hear the music down the phone. The whole of the building is vibrating and these are elderly people who can't get to sleep because of it. It's also next to a funeral home – where's the dignity?"

The fairground, which includes rides such as a merry-go-round and the waltzers, is located on land up for sale by Capita Symonds.

Carly Taylor, who works as a stylist in the Hair Kutz salon opposite the ground, said the noise had made her feel dizzy. She said: "The parking has also been a real problem because there is nowhere for our customers. The music can be heard all the way down the street and it is really bad in the shop when they put the two big speakers on at each end. It has a real impact on our business."

COMPLAINTS: Above, the sheltered housing complex where residents have been disturbed by noise from the fairground (below) in Duckworth Street,

The fairground was set up last Tuesday and is expected to run until the end of this week.

Coun Paul Browne, said: "It is not in the best place because it takes up precious parking usually used by shoppers. We will have to have a rethink for next year and put it somewhere else and that way it might even be bigger and better.

"At the moment, its location is causing some concern and this needs to be addressed."

Railings bid at pub faces defeat

THE family of a man fatally injured when he walked into a busy road have vowed to 'carry on campaigning' despite facing rejection in their plea for railings.

Barbara and Rosalind Quinn have called for barriers outside the Last Orders pub in Duckworth Street, Darwen, after their father Alec Quinn, 69, died five days after he was hit by a car on April 24.

With help from Barbara's partner Andy Campbell, they set up a petition which was handed to the borough council by Darwen MP Jake Berry.

But the double railings proposals have been earmarked for refusal at the council's executive board meeting on Thursday. It is feared railings would 'reduce visibility' around the bend, would 'compromise road safety' and 'outweigh any perceived benefits to pedestrians'.

But Barbara, who owns Chippy's Taxis in Railway Road with her partner, said: "I am determined and will carry on campaigning. I can't understand why they have recommended the railings be refused. I see quite a few people crossing the road there and vans load and unload there.

"I don't want any other family to go through what we have gone through. Anybody can walk out into the road from that pub."

Barbara said they had continued to collect signatures and the total number of people in support of her proposals now stood at 600.

She said Darwen councillors such as Roy Davies and Brenda Cronshaw would attend the meeting with her to show their support for railings at the site.

Joe's survival is name of game

Stand-up comedian Joe Pasquale, who won the fourth series of I'm A Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here in 2004, explains how he survived in the rainforest of Guyana as part of TV show Alone In The Wild. His episode airs on Discovery Channel, at 9pm, on October 19.

60 SECONDS WITH ... JOE PASQUALE

IS THIS NEW PROGRAMME FOR JOE PASQUALE FANS SPECIFICALLY, OR DOES IT HAVE BROAD APPEAL?
It's for anybody who likes watching people struggle really.

HOW DID THIS EXPERIENCE COMPARE WITH I'M A CELEBRITY... GET ME OUT OF HERE?
There's no comparison. One's a Saturday night entertainment show with Ant and Dec and a doctor round the back. I'm not belittling it, but you're looked after and there are no wild animals about to jump on you. The worst that can happen is you get ill. You get the right amount of carbs and protein and whatnot. That's not a survival show, it's a game show. On this, the worst that happens is you get eaten. You're two hours from a hospital, on your own, no doctor, no psychiatrist – no food, not really. There's no crew. There's no comparison.

IT SOUNDS TERRIFYING. WHAT WAS THE APPEAL?
That is the appeal of it, the fact it's terrifying. I'm 50 now. After doing the jungle I realised I wasn't scared of anything any more. After you've jumped out of a helicopter and spent time with Janet Street-Porter and Paul Burrell, you feel you can take on the world and win. I thought if I could do that I could do anything.

Dry homes feel warmer

Holland Damp Proofing dries out your home and is guaranteed to work

Your damp proofing questions answered

Holland Damp Proofing managing director Evert De Graaf answers your questions about damp and his unique system to treat it.

Holland Damp Proofing

What does damp look and feel like?
The tell-tale signs of damp are fungus and mould growth on walls, peeling wallpaper, rotting carpets and woodwork. The return of autumn weather will add to this, leaving your property feeling colder and probably costing you more to run. Addressing your damp problems now will lead to drier walls, which in turn should help lower your energy bills.

How does your system work?
The system involves a series of small damp-regulating bricks which fit into specially prepared niches in the external walls of your home, close to the ground, at regular intervals. These bricks are installed from the outside by our trained engineers. Once in place, they allow air to flow into the brick chambers and out again – circulating airflow through the inside of the wall which evaporates the moisture, drying out the wall and allowing it to breathe.

What properties is it suitable for?
Virtually all types – it is suitable for use on cavity, solid, and brick walls. It is particularly good for stone walls. It can also be used on most properties of any shape and size, from mansions to maisonettes – we've even installed our system in a windmill!

Is it a big job to have it installed?
No, because we work from the outside, the inside of your house won't be turned into a building site and with our trained engineers doing the installation, it usually only takes one to two days.

Why do you say it is eco-friendly?
It uses airflow to dry out walls rather than toxic chemicals, which are used in 'traditional' damp proofing systems. It is also a permanent solution, guaranteed for 20 years, so it won't need replacing.

What are the advantages of using this system over more traditional chemical damp proofing?
Chemical damp proof courses are installed inside the home so there is a lot of mess and disruption, not to mention the additional cost of redecorating, which - if you have damp in a kitchen or bathroom - can be particularly expensive.

Freephone 0808 155 2571

No mess, no problem

Arthur Kendall

ARTHUR, KENDALL from Merseyside, wasn't prepared to put up with mess and disruption when he looked into having a damp proof course fitted. So he contacted Holland Damp Proofing, whose method of installation is mess-free, eco-friendly and is guaranteed for 20 years. Within a day the company's engineers had fitted a damp proof course. The work took place 10 years ago and the damp hasn't returned. "It's not a problem anymore," says great-grandfather Arthur, 82. "I must have been one of the first of Holland's customers and they did a great job. They got rid of my damp problem and it didn't come back. That's a good enough recommendation for me."

Lee's back on tour

If you go to watch Lee Hurst, don't — whatever you do — film his act on your mobile.

The stand-up comedian landed himself in hot water during a performance in 2009 when, furious at someone brandishing a phone, he stopped in mid flow to grab the offending article and smash it to pieces.

The offending camera phone was the last straw for Hurst, who had grown increasingly frustrated at the number of his jokes being 'borrowed' by television writers and comedians from videos of his performances posted online by fans.

It happened during a rare performance two years ago and today Hurst has no regrets about the incident, even though he ended up in court and was forced to pay a fine and compensation to the victim (who claimed he was only texting).

"The truth of the matter is, if someone's recorded my gig and put it on the internet, it's everywhere — and I have no control over where it goes," says the bald 48-year-old, who found fame in the '90s as a panellist on comedy sports quiz They Think It's All Over.

The irony of the incident was that Hurst has kept a low profile over the last few years, focusing instead on running his comedy club in east London.

Lee Hurst's Comedy Club, which has hosted names including Micky Flanagan, Russell Kane and Jimmy Carr, is now being redeveloped and he has grand plans for the venue once it's opened.

"As well as my comedy night, there'll be live music, keep-fit, salsa, all kinds of things. It'll be like a community centre," he explains.

Delays to the redevelopment have left the comedian free to do Lee Hurst: Man V Woman, his first solo tour in 10 years.

"Am I rusty? Possibly. Am I nervous? No. I don't get nervous," he says.

"Anybody who knows me knows I'm a technophobe, I'm a pen and paper man. and noticed this morning the A4 sheets I had for the Man V Woman part of the show have gone missing," he says.

LEE HURST — The Lowry Theatre, Salford Quays, October 21. Tickets £15 from the box office on 0843 208 6000.

OUR RATE IS GREAT
FINANCE FLAT RATE ONLY 4.5%
WITH A TYPICAL APR OF 8.9%
Before you decide on your financial fate.
Just take a look at our very low rate.
Four and a half per cent flat rate sounds fine.
With an APR of only 8.9
For every grand over four years you borrow.
Only £24-58, to pay back "tomorrow."
No doc fees to be paid on this loan.
Which could be 250 quid,
moan, groan, moan.
Four grand borrowed over 4 year is £98-32. Times 48,
"Oh i'm sooo good to you!"
